Finest Unit In Line Battlefront Tribute Won by Edmontons

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—(CP)—The Loyal Edmonton Regiment left here by train early today and army movement control officers said they expected the unit would reach Edmonton sometime Saturday afternoon.

The Edmonton Regiment, commanded by Lt.-Col. W. T. Cronin, arrived at Halifax last Monday aboard the Ile de France along with other units of the second Canadian Corps.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—Although the Loyal Edmonton Regiment that arrives in the home city Saturday will be a vastly different lot of men from those that marched out of the city December 15, 1939, they are proud of the reputation the unit gained on the battlefields of Europe.

It was Ross Munro, top-ranking Canadian Press war correspondent, who wrote: "Of all the Canadian fighting outfits out there, I pick the Edmontons as the finest regiment in the line."

Field Marshal Montgomery singled them out for special mention at the close of the Sicilian campaign. They were chosen to represent the First Canadian Division in the occupation of Berlin.

Perpetuating the 49th, 51st, and 66th Battalions of the last war, the 49th Battalion, Edmonton Regiment, NFAM, was formed in 1939, a new badge was then authorized—the familiar wildcat badge worn by members of the unit today.

When war broke out in 1939, Lt.-Col. W. G. Sullivan, commanding officer of the NFAM, was ordered to mobilize the unit and recruit it to full strength under the official name of 49th Edmonton Regiment. Under his command the unit marched out of the city Dec. 15, 1939, and landed in Scotland Dec. 28.

UNIT TRAINED HARD
The next few months, during which time the entire First Division was known as "McNaughton's Flying Circus," the Edmontons' training and moved all over England. They were ordered to Norway and to France, but both of these operations were cancelled before the move could be completed. In 1941, the 49th was sent to Spitzbergen under command of the late Major W. G. Sullivan, DSO, and later under command of Major (now Lt.-Col.) A. S. Donald, DSO, where they fought and destroyed German meteorological and signal stations and valuable coal mines.

After years of waiting and training, finally, in 1942, the unit embarked for the invasion of Sicily, landing on the beach at Salerno.

Loyal Edmontons' Dead In War Remembered by Men Returning

Aboard Loyal Edmonton's Train

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—(CP)—The return of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment on Saturday, after an absence of nearly six years, will be an occasion for joy for nearly 500 Alberta families, to those whose sons, husbands and brothers remain in foreign graves in Europe the day will be one of sadness. Knowing this, and to let the relatives of the men who were killed in action know that the men of the regiment had not forgotten them, before leaving Holland Lt.-Col. W. T. Cronin, DSO, commanding the unit, had a special "In Memoriam" booklet prepared which has been mailed to the next-of-kin of everyone of the 360 officers and men who were killed while serving against the enemy. The booklets should arrive before the unit reaches Edmonton.

Prepared by Capt. O. R. Browne, now second-in-command of "C" Company, and formerly intelligence officer for the unit, the booklet contains the full memorial service held at Billverton in Holland, on August 12, this year, a brief history of the regiment, and a complete roll of honour. Prescribed by the roll of honour.

"They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old, age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn, at the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we will remember them."

First name on the list is that of 35606 Pte. Robinson, I., who was killed in the first battle at Ragusa in Sicily, July 14, 1942. Last name on the long list, that of 36106 Pte. Penhale, G., who was killed on the Grebbe Line in Holland, April 23, 1945.

First of the 27 officers listed as killed in action is the name of Major W. G. Sullivan, DSO, who was killed while commanding "D" Company in the attack on the cemetery at Agira in Sicily, July 29, 1942. Last officer listed is Lt. C. C. Lesak, who was killed while on patrol on the Senio River winter line in Italy, Feb. 4, 1945.

The booklet is of French grey with black binding. On the front cover appears the words "In Memoriam." In the centre is a reproduction of the unit badge, and underneath the figures "1939-1945."

Dignitaries Welcome Edmonton Unit Home

Heavily laden with battle honors gathered all the way from the Normandy beachhead to Edmonton, where the heavy traffic bridge were built across the Rhine, the 33rd Field Company, Royal Canadian Engineers, returned here on Thursday morning and received a well-deserved tumultuous welcome from a large crowd of relatives, friends and well-wishers.

As the train bearing the engineers came to a halt at the platform cheer rose wave upon wave, dwarfing the sounds of puffing and whistling engines and the noise of shouting rolling stock.

Soon the sappers hurried off the train to be greeted by friends and relatives who had waited long, weary years for the great day. It was an event that will be long remembered by all who were present. Just over six years ago, on Sept. 3, 1938, the 33rd Army Troops Company, with other units in this city, was mobilized as part of the first group of army units to be called on active service.

LET SOON AFTER
In January, 1940, the company left for Eastern Canada. Since then men of the 33rd Army Troops Company have served in Gibraltar, Sicily, Italy and Northwestern Europe, gaining many battle honors and contributing immeasurably to the final victory of the Allied Armies.

Men of the 33rd Army Troops Company made up the greater percentage of personnel of the 33rd Field Company, while practically all were from this district.

Immediately after leaving the train men were given a period to "fall out" in which they conversed with their loved ones. At the same time representatives of the Canadian Legion, Red Cross, and other organizations were on hand.

Survey Shows Coal Shortage Is Most Critical In This Area

The coal supply situation around Edmonton and district seems far more critical than in any other area in the west. In a check with the mines around the city, it was found that none of them have any stocks of coal on hand and most of them have at least 100 orders on the waiting list.

The strike which came on such short notice, officials state, did not leave much coal in the mines. It gives the mines a chance to build up stocks before the next strike.

Edmontons will find it very hard to buy any coal and with the cold weather about to set in, this presents a very serious situation.

STILL TAKE ORDERS
The mines around the city and district are still taking orders, but they can not guarantee any coal until after the strike is settled.

In Vancouver citizens are being rationed to one ton orders as to make the situation worse, it is possible and give as many buyers as possible a chance for at least some coal.

In Regina there is enough reserve to last about a week.

Edmonton has a double ration of red meat, and a double ration of butter, but the meat ration will be cut after the strike is settled.

The strike started in Edmonton and district last night.

Weather Stays Fair and Warm
Fair and warm weather promises to continue with strong winds rising Friday. Estimated high temperature is 65. Maximum temperature, Wednesday, was 80, and the minimum overnight 28. The estimated high for Thursday is 65, and at 2 p.m. it is estimated at 58. The overnight low is estimated at 35.

"Hogger" With 33rd Engineers Ran Train on "Doodlebug Alley"

By E. HORTON
Regina, Sask., Oct. 4.—The French railways were badly knocked around by the RAF, according to Sgt. R. E. Richardson of Jasper, who was one of the few officers left with the group which left Edmonton in April, 1940.

A military niche suited to his civilian occupation was found by Sgt. Richardson, who was assigned a locomotive engineer by the 2nd Railway Operating Company, RCE in France. His civilian occupation had been that of CWR fireman, running out of Jasper.

He hopes that on completion of his 30 day leave he will bring his wife back to his Jasper home from New Westminster, B.C. He spent the war years, and with their two children, the wife being able to start their home off again.

FIVE YEARS OVERSEAS

Sgt. Richardson was overseas five years and two months. His war, also years later war ribbons and says he spent more than two and half years in France at that time.

He told of running trains down what he called "Doodlebug Alley," which is the Antwerp area where the formidable enemy V-2's were dropping hourly. However, the winged robots, they were a devastating effect on the area they had not done a great deal of damage to the area, and that military railway as which he was "hogger."

He had been wounded three times in the last war, but this time had escaped without injury. He last war he served with the 3rd Infantry unit, though he had originally enlisted in the 1st.

ANOTHER ORIGINAL

Another original who will be featured on the special train scheduled to be arriving at 30 a.m. Thursday is Sgt. Lawrence Hildebrand, who once wanted to join the Price-Dixton Ltd., but whose wife has now moved to the coast.

He intends to go to the coast city after a brief stay in Edmonton and to bring his wife back to Alberta with him. It is possible he will return to his previous occupation as a mechanic, though he spoke of his plans to operate a small garage himself, eventually.

The first casualty to be suffered by the unit was at Caen, the Sgt. said, and they were engaged with a fortress first and then with difficulties and captured a bomb and he and his companions were watching the aircraft and saw bombs start on their way. But one man who was on the "waterproof" at the river bank either failed to see them or didn't give for his slit trench nose due. He was killed.

EXPERIENCE NOT USED

Lieut. used had been found for his mining experience after he got into the army. Sgt. A. Fowler, of Drummond, said he had been overseas in July 1940 as a reinforcement for the 2nd Canadian Division and later was attached as one of the engineer companies to the 1st Canadian division. He had been with the 1st Canadian division for a year.

Gunner Jack Ammon, of Nordegg is another passenger on the train. He left Edmonton in December, 1941, and after a brief stay in the reinforcement unit in England was sent to the 1st Canadian Division, R.C.A.C., where the gunners used the formidable five pound five gun, firing a shell weighing over 80 lbs. for a distance up to almost ten miles.

He told of a twelve hour rapid fire barrage to the assault on the

Unofficial List

140 Candidates In B.C. Election

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4.—(CP)—Nominations for the Oct. 25 British Columbia general election close at 3 p.m. MST today.

An unofficial list of 140 candidates is in the field for the 48 seats at stake in 41 constituencies.

The CCF has 48 candidates, supported by Liberals and Progressives. Conservatives, has 47, 21 Liberal Progressive nominees, 13 Social Crediters and 11 others seeking seats in the legislature.

The 11 "others" include three Progressive Conservatives, two Independent Labour, one Independent Labour and one Socialist.

196 IN 1941 VOTE

In the 1941 general election there were 136 candidates. Four years ago the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives opposed each other. Because the coalition, the total of four years ago is not expected to be reached today.

The coalition is not opposing T. D. Pattullo, former Liberal prime minister seeking reelection in Prince Rupert as an independent.

In 1941 he was elected in that riding as a Liberal.

T. D. a independent Progressive Conservative candidate—Max J. H. MacQueen in Saanich and Mrs. E. H. Hart in Victoria are opposing the Liberals nominated as coalition candidates.

There are also hints of dissatisfaction between the two parties in Nanaimo and New Westminster. No candidates have been named in either by Liberals or Progressive Conservatives to oppose the official coalition nominee.

"Beast" Herded 300 Women Into Fire

By CHARLES WIGHTON
Excerpt to the Vancouver Bulletin

LUNenburg, Oct. 4.—(BUP)—The "Beast" was branded today as a deliberate murderer who personally drove 300 terrified women to their deaths in a blazing ditch.

Police charged formally with direct responsibility for that slaughter upon Kramer, murder suspect, and the other men and women guards charged with the deaths of the women.

The woman, Regina Rosenthal, was the last of the women to be killed. She was shot in the back of the head by a guard.

She said Kramer, armed with a gun, forced her to get into a truck of ferocious dogs, used the dogs to attack her, and then she was killed.

Then he forced the helpless men and women to stay in the truck until the flames.

Today's Sport Parade

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 4.—(CP)—Henry Ludwig Borowy, a meek and mousey little man, twined the tail of a tiger Wednesday in an attempt to win baseball vindication.

The thin-faced Polish lad with the polite and self-effacing air, braced the force of thousands of eyes as he went to the mound in the opening game of the world series at the Detroit Tigers.

It was far more than a ball game he was low-headed youngster from Bloomfield, N.J.

Young Hank, as he is known to the trade, pitched his heart out in this one. For it was a chance to pay a debt and even old scores.

Borowy is an American League carrying National League hopes in this all-important game which will give the Cubs the jump toward the classic gold and glory. Until as late as July 27, Hank was a front-line hurler for the once mighty New York Yankees.

HAD FINE RECORD—He was a pitcher at New York's Fordham University when Yankee scout spotted him and chose him for a starring role. What at that time was baseball's greatest dynasty. The Yankees won the fine young collegian had a record of 24 victories against one defeat.

They put him in the Yankees camp, starting Hank off with a record of 11 wins and 10 losses. Important, star-developing club at Newark in the International League, just one brief test from the house that built it. And after three successful seasons there, it was up to the Bronx. Bombers for the time being with the blazing fast ball and the sharp-breaking curve.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—(CP)—Fragmentary report from northern Ontario that Johnny McCredy has forsaken hockey for a position as assistant engineer with a gold-mining company near the Gribb borders should be clipped and inserted in every sports column. It is the silliest of hockey's most glowing success story, the final parting of the destiny between the ice and the skates.

If Dick Kowcinick hears about McCredy's decision at the Port Arthur training camp of St. Louis Flyers, he probably won't beat his head against the bench or ask for a day off. The slim 28-year-old forward isn't that sentimental, anyway it's a long time since he and Johnny forged the famed partnership that placed them side by side on four consecutive championship teams.

McCredy and Kowcinick started as forward-line teammates with a community team in West Winnipeg, which sprouted into the St. Louis Flyers in 1936-37. They were graduated to Winnipeg Monarchs and the parade of championships started with Dick left wing and Johnny playing as Monarchs' star center.

The next year the gold dust twins moved into senior company together. They clicked again, rolling over to an Allan Cup championship with Trail, B.C. They went overseas later with the Flyers to win the "official" world title.

In 1939-40 they heeded a summons from Kirkland Lake, Ont., lured by Bill Duran in gold. Kirkland Lake's Blue Devils crushed all opposition to win the Allan Cup.

The partnership split up after that. McCredy turning professional with Toronto Maple Leafs, while Kowcinick, for what he described as "no apparent reason," turned down an attractive offer from the same source.

Dick turned to Detroit Red Wings, later gravitating to Indianapolis where McCredy joined the ICHL. He was a key member of Toronto Air Force team which bowed to Ottawa's Comondians in the Allan Cup.

McCredy's career with the Stanley Cup playoffs last season was a defeat, see action in Toronto's surprise march to the Stanley Cup crown. "I'm a team player," said Dick. On my own I can go only so far.

War Writer Back

After Duty Abroad

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(CP)—One of Canada's war correspondents is on his way home after more than six years on the battlefronts of Italy and Western Europe and in war-torn Britain—and it is mighty hard to be going back. Canadian Douglas Amerson, 36-year-old newspaperman, who reported for the Canadian Press most of the most vital and violent battles which Canadian troops fought in the Second Great War, ducked in New York City this week from London.

He last night boarded a plane for his native Montreal.

The wild elephant has been all most exterminated from India and now can be found only in higher ridges and plateaus.

One of the oldest flocks in cultivation is the young which belongs to the violet family.

GIRLS—He said as you weren't ready he'd make a girl.

"...and I'd like the evening off, Ma'm... I just made a date!"

Hogan's 27-Under

Being Considered

All-Time Record

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Hogan's 27-under record, wonning the $14,000 Portland open, already is being questioned in some quarters as a new scoring record for 72 holes.

His feat of leading the field at the end of play Sunday by 14 strokes had barely gotten into print before telegrams began to shower on Fred Corcoran, tournament manager for the Professional Golfers Association. The time of the queries was: is the record official? Was it made under true championship conditions?

Corcoran has a routine reply—so far as PGA is concerned, two out of the record books and start away with Hogan's name on top.

Corcoran expressed the opinion that the next best scoring performance also was turned in by Hogan in winning the last north-south tournament at Pinehurst, N.C., with a 27. That score has been many times out of the No. 2 course at Pinehurst rated as one of the toughest in the country.

In the Portland tourney Hogan was 14 strokes better than his closest rival, Byron Nelson, the year's leading money winner. Two strokes back of Nelson was Harold G. Higgs, who finished in 27. Defending champion Sam Snead was fourth with 29.

Doug Ness Seeks

Review by Court

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—(CP)—Doug Ness, well-known Canadian horseman suspended two weeks ago by the Incorporated Canadian Racing Association for what the ICHL termed "practices contrary to the turf," seeks in an affidavit filed Friday at Osgoode Hall to have the ICHL proceedings reviewed by the Ontario supreme court.

Arguing on his motion will be held Oct. 12 on the preceding judge will determine whether he has jurisdiction over proceedings of the ICHL governing body of thoroughbred horse racing in Ontario.

No reason was given for the suspension by the ICHL but in his affidavit Ness says he was advised a day before the suspension that a mechanical electrical device was found in an overcoat he wore during the race. Ness, known as the "Hitchhiker of Canada" for his success in transforming cheap, low-bred, inconsistent winners in higher bracket, lost in the affidavit whether the coat nor the electrical device he lost in his or his employees.

Art Ross, Junior,

Joins Bruin Fold

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Manager Art Ross of Boston Bruins hockey club announced Wednesday that his son, Arthur Ross, Jr., recently discharged from the RCAF, will be assistant manager of the Bruins.

Ross also told sport writers at a luncheon that Johnny Crawford star defenseman, will captain the Bruins for the 1946-47 season. Clappes will act as coach and may fill a defense spot.

The Bruins will start practice in Quebec City next Tuesday will a player invited to report at the training camp. Among the players who are expected to appear are the famed Krut kids—Hobby Bauer, Woody Dumart and Milt Schmidt.

Ross is hopeful of having Frankie Brimack, his son, back in the fold, along with Ray Shabert, but neither has as yet obtained his release from the services.

Royals Shade Newark 11-10

To Tie International Final

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—(CP)—The Royals' Cup final series last night by beating the Newark Bears, 11-10, with three-run rally in the ninth.

The Royals were trailing at seven games in the best-of-seven series. Tonight's game was a doubleheader, highlighted by a wild pitch in the first of the ninth, when members of both clubs mingled with spectators who climbed down out of the stands, with everyone throwing punches.

The night was precipitated by a clash between Dick Baker and Pat Hart when the former rode into third base with his spikes showing. It was a quarter of an hour before the field could be cleared.

The Royals were trailing as early as the third inning by a score of 9-0 and the game appeared to be all over but the shouting. The Bears piled up their early lead by running across two runs in the first, and seven more in the third. In the third they knocked out Ray Hathaway, who started for the Royals and John Gabhard, who suited up for the Bears.

Billy Southworth

Sees First Series

From Grandstand

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The little old baseball man in a grey topcoat halfway up section 13 looked at the factors with nothing but empty seats under his nose.

It was about half an hour before the game started in the opening of the world series Wednesday. Down on the field the photographers and sports writers were grouped around Steve O'Neill of the Tigers and Charlie Gribble of the Cubs, and you couldn't help but think that there's nothing quite as pathetic as yesterday's hero who today is just one of the crowd.

For the St. Louis Cardinals' manager, Billy Southworth, was a hero last year and the year before and the year before that, but the years of the game might even now be out there surrounded by photographers and sports writers and well-wishers.

Charlie Gribble made me go down and sit on the bench with him. He said, "You know, my wife can find me here. Great fellow. Charlie. I find him about a dozen days before the end of the season that if the Cardinals could win three out of four I'd rather see him than his team."

We wondered a little about how he felt about sitting in the stands and watching a world series, as we know he's been in the stands before, except from the dugout on playing field, and he'd been in a "them." It should be a relief, we suggested.

"He'd be down there," he said. "I love the strain and excitement. I suppose, though I'll be under a bigger strain, but I'll be pulling so hard for the Cubs to win."

From Rochfort Bridge 3 Brothers In Line At Caen and Falaise Back With Engineers

By E. R. HORTON
Edmonton Bulletin Staff Reporter

Three brothers whose homes are in Rochfort Bridge arrived in Edmonton today on the special train carrying the 33rd Field Company, R.C.E. They are three Williams boys, Alex, the eldest, Allen, both sappers and L-Cpl. Cliff.

Their plans for the future have not yet crystallized, though they were either drivers or motor mechanic fitters in action. They had learned at Rochfort Bridge before the war.

There are six other brothers in the family, three of whom have at one time been in the army. However, the other brothers were released from the services on the basis of health before they could get overseas.

IN SAME PLATOON
The brothers served in the same electrical and mechanical platoon with a sister field company in the 20th, and had gone through the Caen and Falaise Gap battles together, and were together near Lehr, Germany, when word came that the European war was ended. They had no close calls, they said, but had not been wounded.

Brother Alex said he had been in charge of water pumps and cisterns supplying German troops with water. He would advocate no "soft peace" for the Germans, he indicated, when he declared that he would like to have possessed the water in the tanks of the German tanks. He said he had been in the line for the water in the tanks of the German tanks.

Another set of brothers occupying the same section of the same camp are the Remble brothers of Grande Prairie. However, their third son remained with the army of occupation in Germany. Mr. Remble and Cpl. John are on their way to the north, and are looking forward to return to their home in Grande Prairie. They are married men and Cpl. John has a son.

BUILT BIG BRIDGE
They told of the construction of a 1,400-foot Bailey bridge across the Rhine in 28 hours and 20 minutes, in the middle of the war.

Spr. M. J. Thompson, who drove a heavy crane used in the construction of Bailey bridges, will work in his father's store in Grande Prairie. He said he had used his crane truck during the Allied advance up the Italian boot, but denied that he had been under shelling during any construction work. He married, when a "Mushmouth" girl during his time in England and is expecting her to come to Canada to be with him within a few months.

Spr. M. O. Nordahl, Hines Creek, had learned his trade of electrician.

showerer at his family home in Norway, he said, and as a result he had been company sapper. However, he was put on the line in the construction work. His wife had heard from his people in Norway, all safe, and he had made application to go to Norway to see them.

As a result of numerous delays, however, he was put on the draft for Canada before permission had been obtained for him to go to Norway and see his people.

CLEARED OUT MINES
Spr. P. Kienack, gateway, gave a vivid description of German anti-tank and anti-personnel mines as he told of "sweeping" and muddling mine fields along the Italian peninsula. At the time, the 1st Canadian Corps was making its advance toward the Alps, he had belonged to the 33rd Field Company, and a large part of the job consisted of clearing minefields of all types from the broad Telemite to the vicious little anti-personnel mine.

Returning Engineers Curious About Ration

An interesting and vivid insight was thrown on some of the things soldiers argue about on ships and trains, when the 33rd Field Company, R.C.E., returned to the city of Edmonton, after their tour of duty in Italy.

The First Division soldiers, who to resist a threat of their formation in heated remarks pointed out that they were the "Bulls" and the "Bulls" were the "Bulls".

Some of the boys who had been in England advanced the claim that the 33rd Field Company was the "Bulls" and the "Bulls" were the "Bulls".

Packing Workers Want Short Week

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—(CP)—Fred Dowling, Canadian director of the United Packing House Workers of America (CIO), said yesterday that the union is not seeking a 30 per cent overall increase in each worker's wages in Canada's "Big Three" packing companies, but is asking for a reduction in the working week from 48 to 40 hours with retention of wartime production pay for each worker.

This would mean that each individual worker would receive about a 30 per cent increase in hourly wage rate, he said, but it would not mean any increase in the total amount of money received by the worker in a week.

Mr. Dowling said he felt there had been general misunderstanding of the wage demands drawn up by the union.

Globoater on Last Lap World Flight

HAMILTON FIELD, Calif., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The round-the-world flight of the United States Army Air Corps, led by Capt. Harold G. Gatty, ended today at 2:10 a.m. PST (3:10 a.m. MST), after a flight from Honolulu in 12 hours, 30 minutes.

The Globoater could have made it earlier, it "leaked" through the story passed by radio from the ship's San Francisco reception party by coming in early. The big four-engine transport is scheduled to arrive at Washington about 8 p.m. CST tonight, three hours ahead of the schedule originally planned for the six-day journey.

Returned Men Are Welcomed To University

Ken Crockett, president of the Canadian Universities Returned Men's Association, presided at the first meeting of the University of Alberta "Curnas" which was held in Convocation Hall.

Dr. Robert Newton, president of the association, said that the purpose of the association was to help returned men adjust to civilian life and to provide them with the necessary resources to continue their education.

EDMONTONIANS ON WAY HOME—Above are additional views received by The Edmonton Bulletin of The Royal Edmonton Regiment, now speeding westward toward home. The pictures were taken aboard the liner Le France on which the regiment returned from England. In No. 1, Pte. Sam McCulloch, of Edmonton, is saying to Lt.-Col. W. G. Stillman, Ed. "This is better than the boat we went over."

The men in this picture are the only four originals left with the unit and they are talking over events of that day in December, 1943, when they sailed from Halifax. From left to right they are Lt.-Col. Stillman, Pte. McCulloch; Lt.-Sgt. J. S. Botsford and Pte. W. L. Donovan, all of Edmonton. No. 2 indicates everybody seems to be interested in the cards that Lt. J. A. Herman, of Camrose, drew in a game of bridge the officers were playing in the lounge of the ship. The only original officers left with the unit are shown left to right: Capt. J. Mackin, Annapolis, Lt. J. L. Harman and Capt. R. W. Mayer, Vegreville. The fourth man is Capt. C. E. Egan, MB, High Prairie. No. 3 shows a little cleaning up process before disembarkation. The men with the brooms, left to right, are Ptes. D. J. Beauregard, St. Paul; W. A. Craik, Lethbridge; C. Stamps, Flatbush. The NCO looking on is Sgt. Rod Campbell, Edmonton. In the centre at the front is CSM R. J. Kirkness, Edmonton. In No. 4, senior warrant officers of The Royal Edmonton Regiment willingly pose. Left to right, those seated on the bunk are CSM Jack Aitken, Edmonton; CSM E. Newbold, Saskatoon; CSM H. W. Knight, Brampton; standing are CSM W. J. Imbeau, Saskatoon; RSM H. A. Murray, Weyburn, Sask.; and RSM C. A. L. Warner, Edmonton. In the No. 5, six men willing to pose. They are, left to right: Kneeling, Lt.-Sgt. H. G. Garley, Vancouver; Lt.-Sgt. M. Bowen, Cornwall, Ont.; Pte. R. Lafage, Calgary; standing are Pte. Sam McCulloch, Edmonton; Lt.-Sgt. J. S. Botsford, Edmonton, and Pte. T. A. Price, Smith.

Premier, Govt. Congratulated For Refunding

Premier Ernest Manning and his government are to be congratulated on the successful refunding of the debt of the province, John F. Wilkes, financial assistant manager of the Royal Trust Co., stated Thursday as he concluded a speech at the Edmonton branch of the company.

Accompanied by Mrs. Wilkes, he is making a tour of Western Canada to gain first-hand knowledge of conditions, and he said that he was most impressed by the farming industry in the vicinity of the city, and with the industrial potentialities of Edmonton.

Commenting on the provincial refunding, Mr. Wilkes said "It must be a source of satisfaction to the government, the people and the province, as well as the debenture holders, to feel that a settlement has been arranged."

It is to be hoped that this marks the beginning of a new era of peace and goodwill in Alberta. With the cooperation between government and business and sound economic development, there should be a promising future, particularly for the province which has such great natural resources, not only in farming, but in that great country to the north.

He said that here in Canada we must guard against over optimism and ways and means must be found to avoid serious depression and in the past. He said this can be done by the development of government and business along sound economic lines.

Break-In Admitted By Three Youths

A 15-year-old boy and two teenagers have admitted breaking into the home of Mrs. F. E. Gould, 1021 122nd Street, police said Thursday. The youths admitted having entered the house through a basement window, and stealing some children's toys. The stolen articles were recovered in a box near the railway tracks in that district, police said.

Tools Stolen

Thirty-five different tools, enclosed in a plywood container box, were stolen from a shack at the Fruitlam Construction Company building project on 109th street, near City limits, according to police. The tools are believed to have been taken some time during the last three weeks. RCMP are investigating.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
What do you think of the proposal to build a new railway station at Red Deer, to operate on the main line, and to be operated by the Alberta Government?

THE ANSWERS
GEORGE KAUFMAN, engineer: Such a step would mean an efficient coverage of the rail network, but not only for our own district, but for the northwest territories right through to the Arctic Circle. It is a great idea.

HARVEY MCINTIRE, trucker: I believe it would be another step forward in the commercial part of the western regions. Operated efficiently and carefully, it would be the means of introducing an entirely new phase of this modern era of motor vehicles and trucks into the country.

BOB JENKINS, railwayman: I would like to see the project set up through the railway department. I would also like to see the project funded by the province, and then let the railway department handle the operation and development of the project.

Earned Incomes, Revenue of Govt. Held Inadequate for Peace Needs

The aggregate of earned incomes of individuals in Canada, and of government revenues, is insufficient to meet the requirements of an adequate post-war program, and should be augmented by the use of national credit, Premier Ernest Manning told members of the Rotary Club when he addressed their luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Macdonald hotel.

Speaking on "Domestic Relations," he pointed out the background of the problem, now facing the Dominion and provincial bodies.

"Under our constitution responsibilities are allocated to the Dominion government and provincial governments," he said. "The Dominion government is allocated the responsibility of raising the revenue necessary to meet the needs of the country."

"The general underlying principle of the Dominion government is that the Dominion government should be responsible for the raising of the revenue necessary to meet the needs of the country. This is a weakness in the Dominion program, the premier stated. "More redistribution does not increase the aggregate."

The practical difficulty lay in the financial field, he stated.

"In the early years the province revenues were adequate to meet the cost of their responsibilities, but as the Dominion government increased the cost of all proportion to the rise in revenue," he said.

He said the proposals of the Dominion government, which are predicated on relieving the finances of the provinces, are inadequate to meet the needs of the country. He said that the Dominion government should be responsible for the raising of the revenue necessary to meet the needs of the country.
